

Environmental Management Systems (EMS) Webcast Training

A 1.5 hour Workshop - Hosted by the UMR Institute for Environmental Excellence

Thursday, September 20, 2007

1:00 PM - 2:30 PM

University of Missouri-Rolla, Havener Center

Environmental Management Systems (EMS) are helping local governments and other organizations across the country reduce risks and liabilities, improve compliance and environmental performance, and reduce operating costs, all at the same time.

Learn how an EMS can help you lower costs, improve performance, and address other critical challenges.

Join us for this informative Webcast training to discover

- ◆ The basics of EMS (in a brief introduction) and how it can improve your organization's efficiency and financial bottom line, and protect critical assets
- ◆ How three local governments developed an EMS, the lessons they learned, and how they are benefiting
- ◆ How to develop an EMS that complements your organization's existing internal improvement programs.

Who should Participate: Local government managers and elected officials, and/or appropriate members of staff: public works, utilities and environmental department personnel. Other interested parties are encouraged to participate also. We encourage groups to participate together from the same site.

Registration Information:

Register soon, space is limited to 25 participants.

Registration is free of charge. To register, please contact Amy Gillman, The Institute for Environmental Excellence, by email at gillman@umr.edu or by phone at (573) 341-7600.

The registration deadline is Wednesday, September 19, 2007

MODERATOR

Bob Herbert - Director of Virginia Tech's Local Government EMS Resource Center and former City Manager of Roanoke, Virginia

PANELISTS

Pete Capelle - Public Works Director, Clark County, Washington

Neil Morgan - Assistant City Manager, City of Newport News, Virginia

Andy Kricun - Deputy Executive Director, Camden County, NJ Municipal Utilities Authority

